Cast iron with care – for exceptional cooking

This robust cast iron pot (also known as a Dutch Oven) from the Hâws Santo series is ideal for everything from slow-cooked stews and roasts to baking and bread. Made from 94% recycled cast iron, it features a 4.5 mm thick base for optimal heat distribution and consistent cooking results every time.

The lid includes an integrated drip function to evenly distribute condensation, enhancing the flavour of your food. The durable non-stick enamel coating makes it ready to use straight away and simplifies both cooking and cleaning. The heat-insulated knob stays cooler during use, so it's easy to lift even when the pot is bubbling hot.

Naturally free from PFAS, lead, cadmium and BPA – a safe and sustainable choice for modern kitchens. Heat resistant up to 240 °C, and suitable for all heat sources including gas, induction, oven, grill and open fire – making it a versatile and indispensable part of your cookware. Hand wash is recommended to preserve the coating.
